DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-22 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO-97/24420 in view of Copeland et al. (US Pat. 6,423,857).

In the process of WO 97124420, this crude lipid feed is first hydrolyzed by the addition of base or acid, to give a crude fatty acid product that is contaminated with, inter alia, sterols, unreacted phospholipids and hydrolyzed phospholipids. While the saponification is the embodied method of hydrolysis, as stated supra an acid may be added. The claims differ from the reference in that the crude oil is pretreated to reduce the phosphorus content prior to purification.

However to reduce the phosphorus content of the crude oil would have been an obvious pretreatment step to one of ordinary skill in the art. As shown in US 857, it is known to pretreat crude oils prior to recovering fatty acids during purification. See col. 8-10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 7 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949).

In the present instance, claim 7 recites the broad recitation pressure within the range of 0.5-0.001 kPa and temperature of from 100 to 200°C, and the claim also recites range of 0.1 to 0.001 kPa and a temperature range of from 120 to 180°C which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.
